About

Sandra Trittin is co-founder and Chief Sales Officer of tiko Energy Solutions since 2012.

She began her career at a management consultancy working in the areas of process optimization/restructuring and supply chain management for different companies in the automotive, food processing and telecommunications industry.

She joined Swisscom in 2002 reorganizing process and organizational structures to increase process efficiency for the service delivery and network construction, before to take the lead of software design/development teams for the construction of IP based communication services. She later joined the strategy team of Swisscom.

Sandra studied business administration and holds an MBA of the Business Schools of Mannheim, Copenhagen and Warwick.

At tiko, we believe that the energy revolution comes from the people, for the people, and that a better earth with only be possible if we collectively change the way we consume energy.

Our flexible and modular technology enables innovative solutions for prosumers to maximize their self-consumption, and thus their return on investment. Consumers gain insight and control over their energy consumption and increase their comfort. We put this unique knowledge at the disposal of our partners, making them leaders of the energy revolution, and helping them to gain an innovative image among their customers. tiko is a company from the ENGIE Group.
